Push Ahead After Crushing Two Nazi Tank-Paced Counter Attacks

AMERICAN FORCES ALSO ADVANCING

ALGIERS, Jan. 29.—British troops, stabbing to within 18 miles of Rome, threatened to cut the vital Apennine way today after seizing a strategic bridge spanning a river and supply railroad 12 miles north of Anzio.

Pushing three miles north of Carroccio after crushing two German tank-paced counter-attacks, the British of the Fifth Army invasion force captured the bridge across the Anzio-Rome railroad where it crosses the Anzio-Albano road. The advance brought the spearheads to within four and a half miles of the Apennine way.

Yanks Near Cisterna
American troops meanwhile were revealed to have driven to within light artillery range of Cisterna, an important road and rail junction on the Apennine way 15 miles inland from Anzio.

But although the Allied bridgehead has been enlarged to cover 25 square miles, an authoritative military commentator at Allied headquarters warned that there are now chances of rapid advances in the Rome area.

Large piles of papers and magazines along the curb downtown today testified to the fact that the salvage paper collection work by Scouts was well under way.

Four hundred and ninety pounds of the New Castle News, including every issue as far back as September 1937, have been contributed to the waste paper scrap drive by Mrs. Patsy Decrobo of Hillsville. The nearly 2000 consecutive issues of The News were saved by Mrs. Decrobo, husband, Stephen E. Decrobo, now on sea duty with the navy. In all for the scrap drive, two pupils of Mahoning township school, James Gerlotte and Anthony Rome, both of the sixth grade, have hauled 682 pounds of paper and magazines from the Decrobo home to school.

According to local motorists, travel on the highways north of the city was becoming treacherous this morning, as the mist was freezing on the roads.

MOSCOW, Jan. 29.—Tank-paced Red army columns closed in on the last Nazi-held junction on the main Leningrad-Moscow railroad today, while other Soviet forces stabbed to within 28 miles of Estonia in a race to trap some 250,000 German troops.

Fall of the communications hub of Chudovo, 71 miles southeast of Leningrad, which controls the 11 miles of the 400-mile-long Leningrad-Moscow railroad still in enemy hands, was declared in front dispatches to be a matter of hours as powerful Russian units forced a nearly complete siege ring around the Nazi garrison.

House And Senate Conferees Expected To Complete Action On Bill Today

SOCIAL SECURITY TAX FREEZE STANDS

By WILLIAM THEIS
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—House and senate conferees expected to complete their action today on the two billion, 316 million dollar tax bill by disposing of controversial changes in the war contract renegotiation act.

The anticipated closing session of the conferees was reached after House Ways and Means Committee members agreed to accept the senate "freeze" of social security taxes through 1944 at the present rate of one per cent. This action forestalled an automatic increase in both employer and employee contributions to two per cent.

House members believed they would be upheld on the disputed renegotiation proposals involving court review of settlements, exemption of subcontractors not producing "end products" and allowances for reconversion.

"The house is on a sounder position and should prevail," said Rep. Knutson (R) Minn., one of the conferees.

House conferees were insisting that the court review be taken through the tax court of the United States, the senate proposing the district courts.

Excise Tax Changes
Latest excise tax changes reported by the conferees placed the rate on toilet preparations at 20 per cent, electric light bulbs and tubes at 20 per cent and excepted watches of less than $65 and alarm clocks of less than $5 retail price from the 20 per cent jewelry tax.

GEN. MACARTHUR'S HEADQUARTERS IN NEW GUINEA, Jan. 29.—Allied airmen raking enemy positions throughout the island area above Australia were credited today with destroying or damaging some 32 enemy planes Wednesday and blasting five Japanese surface vessels, including two warships. In addition, six Japanese barges were destroyed.

Latest damages wreaked upon the enemy's air and surface fleets were listed in an official communiqué from Gen. Douglas MacArthur's headquarters. It revealed that 22 Jap fighters out of a force of 60 which sought to intercept a noon-day raid by escorted torpedo and dive bombers were shot down over Rabaul's Lakunai airfield in New Britain. Eight others "probably" were destroyed.

The additional two enemy aircraft were fighters parked on the ground when fighter-escorted four-engine bombers "caused further destruction" at Lorengau in the Admiralty Islands.

Rationing Change On New Tires Will Start February 1

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(INS)—OPA officials announced today that the tire rationing program will be shifted from a "mileage" to an "occupational" basis effective Feb. 1 because of the serious depletion of new tire stocks and an inadequate supply of used ones.

The action will mean that even "A" gasoline book holders in the Midwest and far west will be able to apply to local rationing boards for a new synthetic tire, if they drive their automobile in a highly essential occupation.

Heretofore, rationing certificates for grade 1—new tires—were issued only to motorists who drive in excess of 600 miles a month, virtually excluding all but "C" book holders.

Nearly 1,800 U. S. Planes Share In Frankfurt Raid

Greatest Daylight Operation Of War Is Carried Out By U. S. Fliers

BRITISH HAMMER BERLIN AT NIGHT

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, Jan. 29.—Heavy bombers of the United States Army Air Force carried out the greatest daylight operation of the war today with a gigantic 800-plane raid on the industrial German city of Frankfurt a few hours after a pulverizing new R. A. F. assault on Berlin.

The Frankfurt attack was described officially as "the biggest American single target operation of the war."

There was reason to believe that nearly 1,800 American bombing and fighter planes had teamed up for the knockout blow.

It was the largest fleet of heavy bombers ever sent into action by the eighth air force. The biggest previous attack of this sort was against Emden on Sept. 27 last year when more than 700 four-engine craft participated.

Huge Tonnage Dropped
If the Fortresses and Liberators which made today's onslaught carried only two American tons apiece, Frankfurt received 1,600 tons and possibly something approaching 2,000.

Observers believed the total number of American planes over Frankfurt, including fighter escorts, may have exceeded the gigantic armada hurled into action in the recent all-out assaults against the "invasion coast" of France. At that time, (Continued On Page Two)

Allied Airmen Shoot Down 36 Nazis Over Italy

ALGIERS, Jan. 29.—(INS)—Allied airmen were revealed today to have scored another smashing victory over the German air force by knocking down 36 Nazi planes in air battles over Italy. Five Allied planes were lost, an official Allied headquarters communique announced.

Twenty-one of the destroyed Nazi planes were shot out of the skies over the Allied bridgehead south of Rome. Four of the enemy planes were downed by Negro pilots of the now famous 99th Warhawk fighter squadron.

Fourteen other Nazi planes were smashed over the Ferrara railway yards by fighters and heavy bombers. Rail yards at Verona and the Aviano airfield also were pounded by four-engine bombers, while twin-engine medium bombers hit bridges and rail yards at Orvieto, Orte and Terni in a non-stop offensive against communication lines in the Rome area.

More than 1,500 sorties were flown yesterday by Mediterranean-based planes, the communique announced.

Dr. Wendt Tells Of Many Wonders In Store After War

Executives Club Honors Members Who Have Passed On Since Last Meeting

Dr. Gerald Wendt, noted science editor of New York City, told of some of the marvelous things which are in store for the people of this country as soon as the war ends, when he addressed members of the New Castle Executives club at their monthly dinner meeting in The Castleton Friday evening.

President Roy M. Jamison called on Attorney William J. Caldwell to express the feelings of the club over the loss of its first president, Walter W. Duff, one of the organizers of the club and Lester P. Hauschild, a more recent member, both of whom have passed on since the last meeting.

The speaker, who was introduced by Thomas L. Paden, appeared before the club four years ago.

Dr. Wendt reviewed many of the things which have been brought about during his lifetime through the research of scientists, and predicted that the next ten years will change living conditions in the United States far beyond the expectations of those not in the know.

In the field of electronics alone, tremendous advances have been made. He predicted the possibility of people in a community communicating with one another at will over shortwave receiving and sending sets carried about with them on their automobiles, on the dashboards of one's auto, television, which will be nationwide, through relay stations every few hundred miles, which will show three dimensional pictures on the screen. Radar will bring greater safety in flying and shipping, he said. The radio brought people together in the home, but television, because of its initial cost, may take them away to clubs and community centers.

Round trip flights to London costing only a hundred dollars and taking only a few hours were predicted.

He stated that immediate post-war autos will be much the same as those produced before the war, because the auto industry cannot take time out to re-tool, but future autos will be built more for economy and comfort, because he stated that they will be unable to compete with the railroad and plane for speed.

Dehydrated foods and foods made from yeast, the latter still in an experimental stage, but which hold tremendous possibilities, because it has been found that yeast has a higher protein content than meat eating problem tremendously, he stated.

He told of the buildup of the breakfast food business, whereby wheat and corn, with little else added, has been built into a business which dresses up these cereals and sells them at a tremendous profit. He predicted that luncheon and dinner foods will follow in their footsteps.

office building 150 feet square. There are 900 electric motors, she has 1,857 access openings including 844 doors and 852 manholes, into her construction went 90 miles of piping and 300 miles of electric cable.

A brief ceremony in which Senator Truman is the principal speaker is climaxed by a wailing whistle of three blasts. After the final blast there is a one-minute standstill, the navy band plays the traditional "Anchors Aweigh" and the U. S. S. cern over the Japs' numerical inferiority at Rabaul, admitted "precious losses" of aircraft and said the situation is now "grave."

"The enemy broadcast said the New Britain stronghold was attacked by a total of 430 Allied planes during the first three days of this week, but claimed destruction of 125 of the raiders."

Gen. MacArthur's communique listed the American losses in the Rabaul raids as four planes "with others damaged."

Large fires and explosions also were caused at Lorengau which, for the second successive day, was pounded with 120 tons of high explosives. One of the barges was destroyed in this raid.

Hit Destroyer and Gunboat

Night patrols operating out of Solomon Islands, secured hits on an enemy destroyer and gunboat, and detected a convoy in the Kavirua area of New Ireland. East Cape ground installations also were hampered by the American planes.

Near Hansa Bay, in New Guinea, escorted twin-engine Allied bombers bombed enemy supply and bivouac areas, causing fires and explosions and damaging a 1,000-ton freighter. Other shore installations around Kiwi Prinz and Ulikan harbors were strafed, while Alexishafen was bombed and machine-gunned.

Heavy bombers which bombed Timor and harbor installations set towering fires and sank a 1,000-ton cargo vessel, while the other Jap barges destroyed were hit at Borgei Bay and Arawa on New Britain.

Of ground fighting on New Guinea and Bougainville, the communiqué had very little detail. However, Australian jungle troops were revealed to have advanced west to Kiarl, 11 miles beyond Sio, and American forces at Empress Augusta Bay were receiving support of naval units which shelled enemy positions.

At Pearl Harbor, Adm. Chester W. Nimitz announced the American aerial offensive against the Jap-held Marshall Islands, roared into its 22nd consecutive day Thursday when escorted heavy, medium and dive bombers attacked Wotje, Mille and Maloelap atolls. Other Yank airmen hit Nauru, west of the Gilberts, the same day without loss.

"One dive bomber was lost in the Mille raid and 'slight' losses were suffered by the Wotje raiders. From the other operations all planes returned safely."

NEARLY 1,800 U. S. PLANES SHARE IN FRANKFORT RAID

U. S. headquarters announced that 1,500 American ships of all types were in the air.

There was no question that the Forts and Liberators had the protection of hundreds of fighters on the 800-mile run to Frankfort and back.

The attack on Frankfort meant the American air force had unleashed a "tornado blitz" to destroy the city in its entirety. Aerial warfare never before witnessed such a tremendous gathering of strength against a single target in the daytime. It fulfilled the recent prediction of Lieut. Gen. Carl A. Spaatz that "bigger and better blows are coming."

Overshadows Past Exploits

The attack even overshadowed past exploits of the Royal Air Force, the latter never had flown so many heavy bombers in one day. There may have been as many fighter as bomber planes involved in the assault.

"Well over" 800 four-motored American craft, escorted by fighters, visited Frankfort, an official announcement said, concentrating their attack against industrial installations in the southwest German city.

Last night's R. A. F. raid on Berlin, the 13th since Britain's "saturation" offensive against the Nazi capital was launched, was described as "very heavy" and followed by only 24 hours Thursday night's 840-minute devastation assault against the capital.

Hundreds of British bombers participated in the onslaught.

According to the Stockholm news paper Aftonbladet, the latest Berlin raid was worse than the Thursday attack and one of the heaviest since the offensive began in November.

Hazardous Mission

The heavy American assault on Frankfort meanwhile, was one of the most hazardous missions undertaken by the eighth air force. Depth of penetration into enemy territory made it inevitable the Jap bombers came up against heavy and consistent German fighter opposition both in and out.

Frankfort, Germany's greatest industrial city, is a prime target. Late in December the British air ministry revealed the city had been so heavily bombed in a series of raids that more than 100,000 people probably would suffice to erase it from the map.

Frankfort, 100 miles southwest of Cologne, had a pre-war population of more than 500,000. Its main targets have been oil refineries and electrical appliances, rolling stock, synthetic fuel and chemical factories. Aircraft components, trucks, draftstuffs and rail equipment also were produced at Frankfort in great quantity.

The attack was the biggest American penetration raid to date from the viewpoint of the number of heavy bombers used. The undertaking represented a round-trip flight of approximately 800 miles.

Berlin Bombed

Forty-seventh Royal Air Force bombers failed to return from the latest devastating raid on still-pulsing Berlin—an attack which coincided with aerial bombardment of other targets in northwest Germany and extensive mine-laying operations.

"Large fires" were ignited in the attack, described as a "very heavy" one.

Putting the battle of Berlin on a day-to-day basis, the RAF air fleet struck at the headquarters of Hitler a little more than 24 hours after mighty Lancaster bombers poured 1,680 tons of explosives on the half-wrecked city.

The night raid came hard on the heels of a furious daylight attack against the coast of France, and there were indications that RAF bombers carried on the pre-invasion assaults against the so-called "rocket gun coast" after dark.

2,400 which is 600 less than capacity. Late sales at the box office may have filled the Cathedral for the matinee. It is estimated that about 5,400 people will see the show.

Grand Entertainment

"Pennsylvania on Parade" is grand entertainment. A 26 piece band, nicely balanced, several vocal soloists, a lot of comedians, and a burlesque on a beauty show make for two hours of fun. One act that has been met with howls everywhere it was seen is the "Ferdinand and the Bull" act.

The Two Harmonicats, Patsy Hugh McCaskey and Al Harmon, have a novelty act with harmonica that is good. McCaskey was formerly with Borrah Minchewich Harmonica Rascals. Angelo Bove is a harpist who has played with some of the better known symphony orchestras. The Two Streaks, a lightning fast roller skating act, Cpl. Rudinsky violinist of rare ability, these are a few of the acts that New Castle people will see because they bought bonds.

St. Ed. Smith

The show is directed by Staff Sergeant Ed Smith, "radio writer and director" for many years in civilian life. Sergeant "Smooches" the show in whimsical fashion that is entirely different from the "lightning rod" variety used so much too much by the average "comedian."

At 9 o'clock this afternoon Dr. G. S. Bennett addressed the crowd on the bond campaign. Tonight at intermission time a German helmet will be auctioned off to the person bidding the highest number of bonds. The bidding is open to all citizens, organizations or industries. The helmet was captured from a German soldier in the Italian campaign.

"Pennsylvania on Parade" is one of the best army shows in the country. It has been compared favorably with "This Is The Army" and after having seen army shows in the past six months we're in agreement.

Sees Election On U. S. Dictatorship In 4th Term Move

MINEOLA, N. Y., Jan. 29.—(INS)—Asserting that President Roosevelt was not only a candidate for a fourth term but "for life," Rep. John Jennings of Tennessee asserted today that the next presidential election will be a choice "between the republic and a dictatorship."

Representative Jennings warned that if President Roosevelt is re-elected "rotation in the presidency will have perished; we will have a succession and an end to the republic. George Washington established."

PRESIDENT WILL BE 62 ON SUNDAY

in excellent health, and almost unvarying good humor.

The president's recent attack of influenza, from which he has rapidly regained strength, is virtually the only illness he has suffered, aside from occasional colds, in years.

Rear Admiral Ross T. McIntyre, the president's personal physician, recently pronounced Mr. Roosevelt in the finest general health of any man of his years he had known.

Reaction To Long Trip

The president's attack of flu the latter part of December was attributed to reaction from the 25,000-mile journey, much of it by air, which in five weeks took the executive to Cairo and Tehran, over the battlefields of North Africa and Sicily, and through three of the wars most crucial international conferences.

Mr. Roosevelt came back from those conferences on December 17 to make an historic report to the nation on Christmas eve, to prepare his state of the union message to congress, and to wrestle with the threatened railroad and steel strikes before finally going to bed with the flu in an epidemic that was sweeping the country.

Lost Ten Pounds

In the course of his convalescence he sent his state of the union and budget messages to congress, held numerous conferences with his close military advisers, including Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Allied commander-in-chief in the European theater, on the coming cross-channel invasion of Nazi-held Europe, and effected settlement of the railroad and steel disputes.

The president lost ten pounds during his illness, but is now gaining this back. His normal weight is 186.

The strain of the past eleven hectic years in the White House has left few marks on him.

His face is a little heavier and more careworn, lined and crosswreathed around his eyes. His hair has grayed perceptibly and thinned on top. But the president was fifty-one when he entered the White House in 1933, and the eleven years to sixty-two take their normal toll.

The president's sense of humor and the broad grin that charmed the nation in his first term, have not left him.

Today he looks even better than the weeks immediately after Pearl Harbor, when the fate of the nation hung in the balance.

BRITISH TROOPS DRIVE TO WITHIN 18 MILES OF ROME

troops advanced farther inland and "strengthened their positions" in the Anzio-Netum bridge head, an official communiqué revealed.

British fleet units disrupted movements, pounded German gun batteries, transport columns and coastal rail lines in the beachhead area and battered the Gulf of Gaeta Port of Pormia, eight miles west of Minturno to the south, the communiqué announced. Direct hits were scored on a German train bringing supplies to the front.

Allied fighters and fighter-bombers meanwhile maintained their ceaseless patrols over the invasion beachhead, knocking down 21 Nazi planes. Another 15 enemy planes were smashed in the course of widespread Allied air attacks on communication lines and airfields in the Tyne area.

Along the Nazi "Gustav line" 70 miles to the south, Fifth Army troops north of Cassino scored local advances against stiff opposition and repeated German counterattacks.

Beat Off Nazis

Ten miles north of Anzio, Lieut. Gen. Mark W. Clark's forces beat off a Nazi attempt to re-capture Carroceto and consolidated positions in that coastal town 21 miles south of Rome on the Via Anagnina "short-cut road" to the German-held capital.

A front-line dispatch dated Friday revealed that the new gains inland and northward from the Nettuno area scored under a near-perfect umbrella of warplanes flying an average of 1,400 sorties daily, enlarged the area held by the Allies to 85 square miles.

German air and ground resistance to the Allied march on Rome stiffened by the hour, with the Nazi air force hurling determined attacks against the beachheads and German armored trains firing giant shells at Fifth Army positions from the very outskirts of Rome.

Despite the increased opposition, British forces beat down a counter-attack against their Carroceto positions, knocked out three German tanks, and were reported to have pushed forward another 10 miles to within 19 miles of Rome.

MOUNTING WAVE OF INDIGNATION IS SWEEPING NATION

to assure the complete and utter destruction of Japanese militarism.

Management, labor and the farmers might cooperate in working two extra hours that day as their special answer to Japan for the mistreatment of our boys. The general public might be asked to dedicate a special contribution to the 4th War Loan as America's warning to Japan that the day of retribution is surely coming."

Throughout congress there was a growing demand for intensification of the war in the Pacific. Several members of congress led by Sen. Charles McNary, urged a new "Doolittle" raid on Tokyo in a far greater scale. Clark said Emperor Hirohito should be handed and Tokyo bombed "out of existence."

Charge Most Prisoners Murdered

Adding fuel to the nation's flaming hatred of the Japanese was the charge of Palmer Hoyt, former director of OWI's domestic branch, that the enemy actually had "brutally murdered most of the 50,000 prisoners taken at Bataan."

In their official statement, the War and Navy Departments said more than 5,200 American soldiers and thousands of Filipinos were wantonly murdered, tortured and starved to death.

Convinced that further diplomatic protests to the Japanese government through the Swiss would be futile, the State Department concentrated its attention on compiling all available evidence on Japanese war crimes and criminals so that swift punishment can be meted out when victory has been achieved over Japan.

There were strong indications that one of the main points of the armistice terms which eventually are imposed on Japan will be a demand that all military war criminals be handed over to the Allies for trial and punishment.

The revelation of Japanese mistreatment of war prisoners also strengthened the belief that Japan must be completely and permanently disarmed after this war. The view prevails in official circles that Japan is a half-savage archipelago in the family of nations too immature in the ways of civilization to be trusted with the modern weapons of warfare.

Meanwhile, diplomatic representatives of the conquered countries of Europe joined in expressing their sympathy with the American people over the disclosures of Japanese brutality.

Extending their front south of Leningrad to a depth of 50 miles, the Red army seized the vital junction of Lyuban and occupied all the vital Leningrad-Moscow railroad.

EXPECT ATROCITY REPORTS WILL SPEED UP JAPANESE WAR

public of the full measure of the stunning barbarism which these heroic undertakings are being treated can scarcely fail to arouse a tidal wave of universal indignation and fury throughout the United States that will sweep the public mind like a flood and is likely to produce the most far-reaching consequences.

Fact that has thus far escaped attention in this country is that the Japanese campaign of atrocity against their helpless captives is by no means a simple product of the spontaneous barbarity of a people recently emerged from savagery, but the result of a deliberately planned scheme of diabolical cunning.

Its obvious aim is to destroy once and for all the white man's "race." Since the Orient, since its earliest appearance in eastern lands, the European, and later the American, has enjoyed a unique and superior status, which has grown into the superstitions of eastern peoples until a white face implied for its possessor the status almost of a demigod with magical powers.

In India the Hindu called their British masters "Sahib." So in Malaya the word was "Tuan," Lord. And in China the coolie never failed to address the European or American as "Master." This self-created inferiority complex helped largely to account for the easy victories of Europeans over native armies.

Japs' Recent Situation

The Japanese have long resented this and determined to destroy it. Every white man who has lived in the Orient is perfectly aware of this fact. Now Japan's war lords think their opportunity has come. Their unfortunate captives are apparently destined to furnish the object lesson to millions of Asiatics that the white man can fall just as low as the most unfortunate Oriental, and can be just as brutally treated by the Japanese with as little power to save himself.

That is the reasoned motive behind Japan's public barbarity to

Cut Railroad

Besides Lyuban, 50 miles southeast of Leningrad, the Russians also captured Peredolskaya and Kena, 105 and 110 miles, respectively, south of Leningrad and straddling the Leningrad-Vitebsk escape railroad.

Cutting of that railroad left only the Leningrad-Luga-Pskov route still open to the Nazis, and Russian forces were revealed to have smashed to within 23 miles of that line and only 25 miles from Luga itself.

More than 50 towns and villages most of them south and southwest of Krasnogvardeisk on the Leningrad-Luga-Pskov line also were seized in Friday's smashing advance. The high command announced. Some 3,000 German troops were wiped out during the day, more than half of them on the Leningrad front and the remainder east of Vinnitsa, near the Ukraine's Bug river, where futile Nazi counterattacks were crushed.

In the Novokond sector, 100 miles south of Leningrad, Red army forces pushed west and southwest in a drive threatening to outflank large German forces in the Saraya Russa area south of Lake Ilmen.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

JUVENILE DELINQUENCY

Juvenile delinquency can be curbed. It will be curbed when enough "good parents" are good parents; when enough of those parents who are looked up to in their respective communities make their growing children into best citizens right now at home, at school and elsewhere in the neighborhood.

Among the essentials for building good character and citizenship in a child as he grows are: A pair of parents who are good persons themselves, living on a lofty spiritual plane at home and away from home, who have high regard for each other as persons and live together companionably; who promote a wholesome, happy family atmosphere for the child and treat him as a real and worthy person; who have before the first child was born, began to plan together on his best upbringing and have continued working together as one in his guidance to the end that he shall grow well in self-reliance, responsibility and regard for the rights of others and respect for constituted authority.

Being one of these parents you can be sure you are winning considerable success if you find your child gets along well with others of his age, chooses to wait on himself, habitually shares in the duties and cares of the home; if he is not destructive of property at home or elsewhere; if he is not a nuisance to other people; if the neighbors speak well of him; if the neighborhood storekeeper never needs to watch this child to keep him from touching or handling goods before they have been purchased and say of him: "We like to see him come into our store."

Also judge your success if the teachers at school talk to one another about how well your child must be brought up at home, being so dependable and considerate of all other persons; if the bus driver or street car conductor remembers your child for his quiet, courteous manner as a passenger; if the librarian has a happy smile every time your child approaches her desk; if the Den Mother of Club Scout Master, or Sunday school teacher talk enthusiastically of your child's self-control and regard for other persons; if, moreover, no one saw your child under fifteen on the street after dark, except on a few approved instances, and if your child is also called good parents, practically all school nights but had ample fun with other boys and girls at home and wholesome community recreation at week ends; if you and your child have grown in mutual esteem the while.

So Worry Having succeeded in cultivating good citizenship in your child, you need have no worry about delinquency in him. You can be sure of added satisfaction that you are helping check delinquency in other children, and the more you are looked up to in your community, the more your good example as parent helps stem delinquency and promote good citizenship in your community and nation.

As you know, those fathers and mothers most respected in their community are very likely to be members of a church, civic club, PTA or the like, and far more often than not, they live in comfortable homes and comfortable neighborhoods. By and large, these parents set the standards of conduct for all children.

Therefore, the more influential as person and citizen, a parent is in his community, the bigger his responsibility through his own children for the crime or citizenship of that community. Remember the Parable of the talents!

If juvenile delinquency is to be checked, the so-called good parents, by beginning at home, will do most about it. But, alas, so many of them are doing least! Indeed, the very germs of juvenile delinquency, it seems, are hiding in the homes usually classed as "good."

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

NOW Not far away is spring, they say, And back of April, gentle May, But life is lived from day to day And faith is needed now. Now strength is needed! Young and old.

Today must brave the winter cold, And wake at morning to behold Bleak field and barren bough.

This good to know the streams will flow And laughing, dancing seawards go, But now the biting north winds blow And snow lies deep today.

Today the call for all is made To live to duty and afraid, And as stout hearts have worked and prayed,

Today to work and pray.

So: tree and flower and glade and bower, Will come to their triumphal hour, But now the clouds of winter loom And now the skies are gray.

Where roses blossom lies the snow, And cruel are the winds that blow, And strength is needed now, and so

God grant us strength today.

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 6:08. Sun rises tomorrow 8:17.

From the looks of things some of the big boys in Washington are afraid of the soldier vote.

Most conversation these days consists of beefing about the gas and gassing about the beef.

Politicians can argue all they please about the fourth term, but the people will have their say on election day.

It is said that nine-tenths of the world's prize fighters are Scotchmen.

The cars of the future are much talked about now. Later on they will also be cursed a lot.

Man laughs and weeps at the same things.

Fable: Once there was a land where politics, class prejudice and personal bias did not affect the drafting of soldiers.

It looks to be quite a big job to run for president of the United States.

It's a wonder some wise guy hasn't devised a gadget that would make a record of the conversations on the telephones. It would be great for the police.

Experience makes people old far sooner than years.

A war also produces a lot of crooks.

"I want a pound of steak. I'm the husband of the lady who always tells you you are so good looking."

More beer and liquor taxes are being collected in this country now than ever before. Must be on account of the high prices.

A husband never forgets his wife's birthday—but a wise one never remembers which one it is.

If you take your own advice, you'll be too busy to bore others with it.

Not what you do, but how you do it, is the best test of your capacity.

"The government must do so and so to avert disaster," usually means: "Do so and so to fatten our pocket-books."

We see where trucks hauling food couldn't get enough gasoline; other people needed it to attend dog races.

It's not so much a nickel's worth wouldn't be any at all if you didn't bring your own sack.

Correct this sentence: "My customers," said the retailer, "won't buy such low-quality merchandise."

Before we scorn others for breaking treaties, let's find one we made with the Indians and never violated.

He plays a fair game of golf—if you watch him.

Louisville traffic sign: "Slow down before you become a statistic."

Franco says he doesn't recognize Mussolini. It's no wonder; the guy looks different since his ego shrunk.

The Huns are up to their old 1918 trick. They kill our boys; their ammunition is gone; then cry "Kamerad!" and mustn't be hurt.

Let me say to all girls who think they are in love and want to marry boys who are leaving the country—think seriously before you leap. It is a lonely and difficult life to be the proper kind of wife or fiancée of an absent serviceman. When a girl has announced her engagement, she has no more right to accept the attentions of other men, no matter how platonic, than a wife and an Army chaplain is over-zealous when her fiancé is overseas and it is doubly important that she be faithful. Naturally, she must strive to have some happiness but this she can readily acquire from groups of friends rather than from a tete-a-tete with one man. There is always safety in numbers.

An Army chaplain, recently returned from foreign duty, has this to say: "Martial problems claim an important place on the list of things which men in service discuss with their chaplains. My opinion is that the woman who has a husband overseas wading through hell, sweat and blood and who is playing around with another man is about the lowest thing I know."

Allow me to add that the same goes for a fiancée. If a girl is fickle and pleasure-seeking, she should postpone her engagement until Johnny comes marching home—if he does!

German prisoner's won't believe our newspapers, they say it's all government propaganda. A cafeteria doesn't seem real if they've always been spoon fed.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

There's nothing quite as helpful as a good cry, says the woman's counselor of one of the big airplane plants in New Jersey.

With all the hundreds of women in whose welfare she is interested, this expert in feminine psychology finds women in shops no different from women at home.

They bring their domestic troubles with them along with their lunch-boxes, and both sandwiches and troubles have to be digested.

As a matter of fact, says the counselor, unless the workers are helped with their personal problems production goes down and the war is slowed up.

"Whenever I see that a woman worker looks worried I ask her to come into my office and have a good cry."

"You have no idea how much that helps. The cry seems to take a load off her. Then comes a heart-to-heart talk and we work out her problems together, and usually we find a solution."

The greatest burden becomes lighter if you can have someone to share it with you. I don't know the scientific explanation of crying and I am not particularly concerned with it. But to me the tears of a woman in grief are like the stream in spring, when the ice melts and the fresh water of hope is released from its dammed-up confines.

Always after tears comes relief, and with it comes the talk with a good friend. Soon the world seems all right again and what has seemed an unsurmountable problem becomes a simple matter of common sense and normal living.

There are some griefs, of course, in everyone's life, for which there is no immediate relief.

These must be borne with fortitude and if there is a friend to share them with and to solace you, even the most poignant wounds will heal with time.

The greatest of all aches is loneliness.

Find someone who will walk with you to light up the dark. Friendship is like the full moon that spreads its silvery haze over the dismal night.

Friendship is the soft cloth which wipes away your tears.

What Noted People Say

(International News Service)
OTTAWA—The Earl of Athol, governor general of Canada: "The time has come when all the nations now united in the common purpose of winning the war should seek unity to assure an enduring peace."

WASHINGTON—Pitts Administrator Chester Bowles: "I believe that our record of holding the cost of living in check for the past 20 months has been an excellent one."

SAN FRANCISCO—Commander Gene Tunney: "You hear a lot of talk lately about a secret weapon. Well, I can tell you we have one. Our secret weapon is American youth."

NEW YORK—Former President Herbert Hoover: "We cannot come through this postwar period with the promised land unless labor leaders exert their immense power to remove restrictions on individual effort and use of new devices."

PITTSBURGH—Gov. John W. Bricker of Ohio: "The government has not been as generous to the disabled veterans of this war as it should have been. It is the solemn duty of congress to see to it that the government performs its whole duty to these brave men."

Preposterous Promise

Col. Frank Knox's Chicago Daily News, the other day, quite properly condemned "the preposterous promise that prosperity proceeds out of destruction" and called it "the underlying delusion of much of the postwar chatter."

There was also appropriate emphasis upon the fact that "we must face vast jobs of industrial re-conversion and relocation of populations," and the too-much-neglected fact that "we shall find that we have parted with some irreplaceable resources" used up in the large-scale operations of this war.

In the face of such facts, the Chicago paper concluded: "It is wrong to tease people with pictures of plenty and ease to come upon the heels of war."

Indeed, a majority of the 150 or more "planning agencies" which now give out what Upton Close has called "granite stuff about the 'happy days' bound to come after the war" are, as he says, guilty of deceptions which are "cruel, no matter how excellent the intentions of the dreamers."

There may, indeed, be "happy days" after the war. But their happiness will have to be won and earned from hard work and frugality.

However, as Mr. Close goes on to warn us: "The planners are all set to blame the disappointment on the American system of private industry, which on the one hand is not to be permitted to function, and on the other hand is to be blamed for not functioning."

In the ensuing panic and confusion, a system of alien Statism will be brought forward as a substitute for the great American system which powerful conspirators some years ago set out deliberately to destroy. Americans had better be on guard against these threats—from now!—Ft. Wayne News-Sentinel.

Our chief trouble is that politicians handle the home or voting front with tender gentleness and let the boys in uniform do all the suffering.

Nazi Surrender In Italy Held Improbable
Airmen Wonder Who Will Sock Tokyo Next
Weather Will Be Factor In Second Front

By HELEN ESSARY
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Rumors swarm like phantom bombers in the wake of the forthcoming cross-channel offensive to smash Hitler in 1944 and end the war in Europe.

Fundamentally, the forthcoming blow is perhaps the most widely-publicized projected military operation in history.

There is no doubt in the minds of most Washington observers that the Allied armies of liberation will sweep across the English channel when the stage is set for the mammoth drama of blood, sweat and tears—and, incidentally, the weather is right.

That was the commitment made to Marshal Josef Stalin at the Teheran conference.

The attendant armada of rumors includes one that the Germans may permit their front in Italy to collapse in order to bring the Anglo-American armies into Berlin before the Russians arrive.

It is no secret that the Germans would go to almost any extreme to keep the Red armies off the soil of the Reich.

However, any such German desire is doomed to be frustrated by the unity of the Allied—American, British, Russian—forces.

Therefore, the doomsday and arm chair generals in Washington say, Germany's only alternative would be to collapse the Italian front and possibly the cross-channel front when it is opened.

There is just enough logic, from the Teutonic point of view, in the rumor to make it not impossible in a wartime, topsy-turvy world of impossible developments.

Spring and summer will tell the story.

Airmen in Washington are wondering whether the Army Air Corps or the Navy will be the first to carry out the long-promised bombing of the Japanese mainland—expected sometime this year.

Both the Army and Navy bomb-sites coked for Tokyo, shared honors for the original bombing of the Japanese capital in April, 1942.

The twin-engined Army B-25 Mitchell bombers that carried out the raid were ferried within striking distance of Hiroshima's palace aboard the aircraft carrier Hornet.

Since the Navy has been rushing to completion mighty aircraft carriers, and from their decks are flying long-range fighters, torpedo bombers and dive bombers.

Meanwhile the Army has pinned its hopes on the B-29, a new super bomber version of the Flying Fortress, which Gen. H. H. Arnold, Air Corps commander, said would get into action this year.

The Japanese radio has offered no answer to this question. Recently it warned its listeners that they could be bombed by carrier-based planes.

Later it warned that Japanese cities would be bombed from the Aleutians by long-range planes. Army and Navy airmen don't care which branch of the service gets the next crack at Tokyo.

Their attitude is "the more the merrier—the sooner the better."

Political observers see little chance that congress will grant President Roosevelt's state-of-the-Union request for a national service law.

The chances seem pretty strong that the Austin national service bill will die in the senate military committee, where hearings have been postponed.

Forecasting the doom of the measure offered by Senator Warren R. Austin (R.) of Vermont is Chairman Robert R. Reynolds (D.), North Carolina, of the committee.

Reynolds is an arch foe of the bill, which he says "would give us here in America what Hitler and Stalin have got."

If the measure ever reaches the floor, one of the bitterest legislative battles of all time will be precipitated.

THE BOYS GET AROUND

Time was when it was something of an event to cross the equator: so much so that the crossing was usually attended by elaborate ceremonies. But in these days when planes hurtle back and forth to South America, or to Australia, King Neptune's court has lost much of its glamor.

Indeed, our Pacific fleet may cross the line a couple of times in a single day. And so many of our soldiers and sailors are living war-time lives in areas famed in history or fiction that even the most confirmed civilian globe traveler will soon be hard put to hold his own in conversation.

Take Richard Linsemaier, of Doylestown for example. He's a sailor, and to date, he reports in letters to friends, he's jumped the equator 42 times and has no thought of quitting. And he's only one of hundreds of thousands who are seeing more of their own country and the world than they dreamed a few years ago. The boys do set around.—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

TERMINATION OF WAR CONTRACTS.

There is a good deal of talking, at cross purposes concerning how war contracts should be terminated, and this is one of the problems that should be solved now, for a proper solution will save not only the nation a lot of money, but will probably save the war contractors a lot of grief and money, too.

One J. Harry LaBrum, a pretty well known Philadelphia lawyer, now serving as Lieutenant Colonel in the Signal Corps, publishes in the Temple University Law Quarterly an interesting discussion of this subject.

At the close of the last war there were about thirty thousand war department contracts outstanding. Today the department has more than one hundred thousand prime contracts and at least a million sub-contracts. And it is estimated that the value of the contracts that might be cancelled ranges from twenty-five to one hundred fifty billion dollars—and that is a heck of a lot of money.

After recounting the history recording the manner of terminating contracts in other wars and the precedents set and procedures established in this World War, as the reason for terminating contracts by the United States government, Lieutenant Colonel LaBrum says:

"On only one point is there universal accord. That is, the desirability—nay, the urgent necessity—of agreement as quickly and completely upon an adequate termination program. The problem has been termed Post-War Problem No. 1. Even in advance of V-Day, it is present in the substantial amount of termination proceedings now in progress. These will, without doubt, increase in volume as the war progresses. Even today there is complaint in some quarters about the uncertainties of the future. Future complaints about uncertainty will be far greater unless a satisfactory solution is achieved in the larger problem of cancellation of contracts."

"The responsibility for a successful program of contract termination does not rest solely upon government officials. Others must share in the obligation. Corporate officials owe responsibilities to their stockholders and to their employees. The accounting profession is under a serious duty to its clients and to the public to make certain of the accuracy of termination audits. Taxation authorities and tax experts will be called upon to solve intricate questions raised by the effect of termination proceedings on tax systems, and vice versa. The Bar is charged with the difficult, yet important, task of guiding both government and industry through the many legal problems which have arisen and will arise in every greater measure as terminations become increasingly extensive."

"At the moment, in dealing with terminations, all of us are pioneering in new fields."

Animal Crackers

A lady with a pooch on a leash ambled into a bar at Great Falls, Mont. A town barber, who drinks here in America what Hitler and Stalin have got. The barber picked up the pooch, got a good grip with his teeth, somehow between the tail and nose—and bit the dog right back. Which is news in any language.

In Chicago a drunk-driving charge against a grocery delivery truck was dismissed when the judge learned the driver, who was jockeying a horse, not an automobile. "I've just been tagged 1-A in the draft," explained the wobbly defendant, "and a pal gave me a bottle of cheer."

Duke, a Great Dane and once a watchdog, guards a saloon in Oak Land, Cal. Farsighted, nervous, with an eye on the prize, Duke broke into the tavern armed with a leg of lamb. While Duke enjoyed a midnight snack the robbers looted the joint of cash and liquor. When cops came later, to investigate, Duke chased them away. The law, lacking imagination, had neglected to bring anything for Duke.

FLOUR

Buckwheat flour, rye flour and enriched white flour are pretty much the same in nutrient, minerals and vitamins.

The main difference is in the taste and appearance. Buckwheat flour is used mostly for griddle cakes. It affords the different essentials in just about the same proportion as the other flours.

The different flavor lends a pleasing variety to the diet.

A breakfast of buckwheat cakes and sausage gives a good start for the day.

Rye bread is nice for a change. It seems to be a little heavier than white bread and a little "chewier."

Enriched white bread is the most popular but the others may be used for a change.

Urge Citizens To Use V-Mail

Curtailment Of Air Mail
Service May Result, Post
Office Department
Warns

V-MAIL SAVES SPACE AND WEIGHT

Warning has been issued by the Post Office Department that unless citizens writing to men overseas do not use more V-mail forms, airmail service may have to be stopped. Postmaster William R. Hanna stated today.

Some idea of how much airmail service has increased to the men in service is revealed by the fact that use of air-mail envelopes sold at the post office has jumped from 80,000 per year to a current sale of 400,000 per year.

Some idea of the saving that can be attained by use of V-Mail is shown by the following comparisons. One mail pouch contains an average of 3,000 letters, weighing approximately 65 pounds. The same number of letters can be contained on two reels of 16MM microfilm, weighing 15 ounces, a ration of more than 65 to one.

Thus 150,000 letters in their original form would fill 150 mail pouches and would weigh 2,575 pounds. The same number of letters written on official V-Mail forms, would weigh approximately 1,500 pounds, a great saving. On the other hand, these same 150,000 letters, on microfilm would occupy 100 reels and weigh 45 pounds, reducing the bulk by 98 per cent, and the weight by 2,530 pounds.

The maximum mail load of a large clipper ship is 3,000 pounds, equivalent to 45 mail pouches or only 138,000 letters. The same weight in microfilm could contain 9,600,000 letters.

V-mail letters are opened by machines at the sending station, sharp knives trimming off all sides. Persons should therefore be careful and see that the letter forms are folded according to instructions indicated on the V-Mail stationery. Otherwise, when the letter is folded out of line, part of the text may be severed by the operating mechanism.

Clearness is also vital. If pencil is used, the writer should see that a heavy soft pencil is used. It is better to use ink, the Postmaster warns, but for best results, a typewriter could be used.

Postmaster Hanna also warns those sending packages overseas that in some areas the climate is extremely damp, and addresses soon become obliterated. A slip of paper or a card should be placed inside the package, containing the name of the person to whom the package is addressed. It is best not to use stickers with the address on them. Blue crayon is better than ink, as it is impervious to water.

He also states that to date one hundred million V-Mail letters have been dispatched overseas without loss of a single letter.

Free Flights For Air Prospects Here

Youths Under 18 And Girls
Interested In Air-WAC's
Invited By Army

Local young men of 17, intending to join the Army Air Forces as Aviation Cadets, and women interested in becoming Air-WAC's, will have an opportunity to gain some flying knowledge here at home. A group of Army Air Forces two-seater planes will be at the New Castle Airport on February 2, from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m., to give free rides to prospective cadets and WAC's.

Men and women under 21 must secure parents' or guardians' consent on forms available at all U. S. army recruiting stations and at high schools.

The Army planes, ferried to this district to emphasize the urgent need for more Air-WAC's and Cadets, will be piloted by local Civil Air Patrol personnel. Although WAC's assigned to the Army Air Forces do not fly, they perform important on-the-ground jobs at Army Air Fields and thus release more soldiers for flying duty.

Garbage Strike In Pittsburgh Is Health Menace

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 29.—(INS)—Harassed Pittsburghers were urged today to use disinfectants on rotting garbage to kill odor and germs, as refuse haulers continued deadlocked with city council in their strike for wage increases.

E. O. Rhodes of the Koppers company, suggested quick lime chlorinated lime and coal tar disinfectants.

Meanwhile, council had set next Wednesday as the "must" day for general collection of garbage, strike or no strike, and was waiting for opening of bids from private hauling contractors under ordinances passed recently, in which the city is abandoning the municipal rubbish pickup system.

The strikers interrupted their walkout long enough to pick up carcasses of more than 100 dogs and cats that have littered the streets, but failed to take action to end their 15-day idleness at a union meeting last night.

PAY OF JURY IS HELD UP BY COURT

FRANKLIN, Pa., Jan. 29.—(INS)—The pay of the jury which acquitted Kenneth Filer, 17, of Grove City, on charges of attacking an Oil City girl, was held up today on orders of Judge Lee J. McCracken, who said the verdict was "a gross miscarriage of justice."

Filer was named as one of three Grove City boys who lured three Oil City girls to a lonely spot on Pittsburgh road after a football game in Oil City last fall.

WHEN TIME MEANS MONEY UNCLE SAM USES TRUCKS

When the history of the war is written, the chapter on trucks and their use in the war will be an amazing record of tough jobs done under stress, done quickly and efficiently. For example, the Federal Government decided to move the patent office from Washington to Richmond. It was the biggest office moving job in history. It meant moving two million pounds of furniture and equipment. Trucks did the job in two weeks, using 123 moving vans.

Or another one. The Wage-Hour Division of the Department of Labor was moved to New York City, 223 miles from the capital. Loading began on a Saturday at 1 p. m., at 7 a. m. on Monday every employe had his desk and all his equipment set up in New York City and not a minute's office time was lost.

These are merely two examples picked out at random. The record has thousands of others just as interesting. They only reaffirm the fact that motor trucks are doing a colossal job in this war, just as they will be prepared to do when peace comes.

Don't throw hot words at the Japs for their atrocities. Throw hot steel and lead by means of War Bonds.

Frankfort Is Badly Ruined

By JOSEPH WILLIAMS, Jr.
(U. S. Staff Correspondent)

A FORTRESS STATION IN BRITAIN, Jan. 29.—(INS)—“Good results” were obtained by B-17 fortresses of this station today as they dropped tons of high explosive and incendiary bombs on the German industrial city of Frankfort in the mightiest American aerial onslaught of the war.

Returning crewmen told of watching their bombs plummet down toward the stricken city and late arrivals reported watching huge columns of smoke swirl upward through the clouds several minutes before they reached Frankfort itself.

The big planes, escorted by Thunderbolts and Lightnings, swept over the Reich, through intercepting fighters, to encounter Nazi interceptor opposition which veterans of the recent Oberschieben raid labeled “spotty though sometimes sometimes ferocious.” Included in the planes sent up to beat “if the raiding armadas were enemy rocketships, they added.

FRIENDLY ENEMIES

CHUNGKING.—(INS)—Japanese in Shanghai have prepared internment camps for German nationals in apparent preparation for Germany's collapse, according to the Chungking Central News Agency. “Reputable Chinese arrivals were quoted as the source of the information.

Voyages in convoy are half again as long as trips made by single ships in time of peace. A round trip in convoy to England requires 2½ months, to India seven months.

Hold Youth For Alleged Burglaries

Police were holding today a 12-year-old Negro formerly of Richmond, Va., it having been asserted by Detectives John Moore and Thomas Lynch that he reportedly confessed this morning to having burglarized five establishments here recently, two of them twice.

The youth, who gave the name of John Richfield and address as Bridge street, told the detectives according to Police Captain Willis G. McMullen, the loot consisted of approximately $30 and a typewriter. His apprehension followed information received by Police Captain McMullen from the purchaser of the typewriter. He directed detectives to seek a colored lad who had sold the typewriter. Richfield was taken into custody and quizzed.

He reportedly confessed to alleged burglaries as follows: Davis Coal & Supply company, $15 and cigars; Marlin's Distributing agency, $7.50 and two rolls of nickels; Kline Lumber company, typewriter, $15; Shuman grocery, $5, but obtained nothing at Cooper's gas station, South Jefferson street. He paid two visits to the Davis and Marlin establishments, he informed the detectives.

The alleged burglaries extend over a period of several months. He was being interrogated at noon relative to other robberies here recently.

The men it takes to operate the machines on one large battleship in the aggregate represent at least 1,500 years of training and 2,500 years of experience.

'Cuff Link' Dinner Event Is Tonight

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(INS)—President Roosevelt will be host tonight to a group of close personal friends at his customary birthday “Cuff Link” dinner.

In a departure from past custom, however, Crown Prince Olaf and Crown Princess Martha of Norway head the list of dinner guests this year.

Secretary of Treasury Henry Morgenthau and Mrs. Morgenthau are among the guests which include Presidential Secretary Stephen T. Early, Judge Samuel L. Rosenman, Robert Sherwood, Mrs. Harry Hopkins, several other members of the president's staff and a few close friends.

The custom of the “Cuff Link” dinner dates back to the 1920 presidential campaign when Mr. Roosevelt was the vice presidential candidate on the Democratic ticket with Gov. James M. Cox of Ohio. Each year thereafter the president gave an annual dinner to the newspaper correspondents who covered the presidential campaign. In recent years the dinner has been expanded to include his close associates in the White House and close personal friends.

SCHOOL EMPLOYEES PLAN TO STRIKE

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 29.—(INS)—The Board of Public Education prepared today for a strike of 1,000 school employees, with the C.I.O. state, county and municipal workers meeting to vote on a walkout in their demand for general wage increases.

The strike is “inevitable,” said Jack L. Strobel, the groups' state president, after receiving from the board a report that “there can be no further general wage increases at this time with the exception of cost-of-living.” This group has been neglected in wage adjustments during the past two years.

A strike would affect about 100,000 students.

Cementers-Wampum Share Section 21 Lead

Kresovich Paces Attack, Fires 19 Points; McFate Rings 17 For Losers

Looping 25 fielders with amazing accuracy and setting up a defense that was effective at the right time, Bessemer high's flipping agents wrecked Mt. Jackson's Section 21 title hopes by walloping the Jacks, 56-34, Friday night before a crowd that filled Mt. Jackson auditorium.

The victory not only boosted the Cementers' morale but moved them alongside of Wampum high's Indians. The rivals are deadlocked for first place with five wins against a single loss.

Throughout the first half, the Mounties slugged toe and toe with the invaders. Bessemer gained a 9-4 first period edge and added three more points to the margin at half-time, leaving the court sporting a 22-18 edge. The Cementers bettered the lead with a 15-point barrage in the third, compared to six for the hosts and then piled up 19 more points in the fourth.

Bessemer Red-Hot
Coach Weresuk's gang was charged with fight and refused to let up against the game Mounties. Bessemer's seldom missed as it counted 25 fielders and six fouls.

Kresovich was high man for the winners with 19 points. Johnson and Miller furnished 11 points apiece. McFate did his share in the Jackson lineup, ringing in 17 points on eight dunks and a free toss.

This marked Mt. Jackson's second sectional reverse in six games and moved the Jacks down to third place with Shenango.

In the prelude piece, Bessemer's scops copped a 30-22 decision over the Jack reserves.

St. Joseph's routed St. Michael's, 31-24, to keep pace with the St. Mary's. Vaughn starred for the winners, while Kiroi featured for the losing quint.

St. Philip and James walloped St. Johns, 38-26, to move on top with St. Mary's and St. Joseph's. Kozienowski and Grybowski flipped 21 points for the James quint, while Elias emerged with top honors for the Johns athletes.

Ellwood Defeats New Castle, 36-27

SHARDONE'S THREE QUICK
FIELDERS AT START OF
FOURTH RUIN 'CANES

ELLWOOD CITY, Jan. 29.—After being held to a 6-6 standstill in the first period, Ellwood City high played impeccably thereafter to capture a 36-27 Section 3 victory over New Castle Friday night on Lincoln floor.

By garnering their initial loop victory, the talented Wolverines deadlocked New Castle's mark of one success in five times out.

The bitter athletic rivals played cautiously in the first, this probably holding down the count to 6-6. The 'Canes couldn't locate the line in the second, adding only three points to their list while the Wolverines marked up eight to gain a 14-9 lead.

Canes Shave Lead
New Castle sliced two points from Ellwood's lead, trailing 22-19 as the third stanza ended. As play resumed, however, Guard Shardone pumped in three quick field goals to ruin the 'Canes. The Wolverines then proceeded to stretch their margin and stopped ahead by nine points as the final whistle shrieked.

Shardone proved Ellwood's stand-out performer. Besides ringing eight points, he played flawlessly. Hayden was top scorer with 11 markers. Fred Wimer was the losers' ace point maker with 10 on four fielders and a pair of fouls.

New Castle entertained Woodrow Wilson of Youngstown Tuesday night while Ellwood City travels to Zelenople.

LaMotta Wins; Fans Disagree

DETROIT, Jan. 29.—(INS)—Jake LaMotta, Bronx middleweight, held a ten-round decision today over Pittsburgh's Ossie (Bulldog) Harris following their scrap in Olympia last night but the referee and the majority of nearly 10,000 fans thought it should have been the other way around.

Referee Sam Hennessey awarded the fight to Harris by a slight margin but the point scores of two judges gave LaMotta the edge. Announcement of the verdict left most of the spectators stunned momentarily, but they soon began a demonstration which lasted for ten minutes.

While Harris came out of the scrap unscathed, LaMotta suffered a cut left eye when Harris banged him with a vicious right in the fourth round. It was the second time Harris lost to "Joey" LaMotta, having been defeated earlier in Pittsburgh.

In the semi-windup, Billy Miller of Pittsburgh dished Jimmy Joyce of Gary, Ind., after ten rounds of action.

Six clear titles and a share in five others is Coach Piggy Lambert's basketball record for 26 seasons at Purdue.

SPORTS RAMBLINGS

Sports Peas:—

Local patrons of cauliflower lane, no doubt, recall the slim, good-looking Billy Murray from out of Belleaire, Ohio. The light-weight appeared in numerous amateur cards and won consistently. While performing his duties as tail gunner in a plane, Murray was shot down and killed about three weeks ago, in the Mediterranean area. This sad news came from the lips of Jimmy Grippio, the "magician" and manager of both Melio Bettina and Murray. The Ohioan entered service 15 months ago and had captured 61 of 53 professional fights.

You'll have to go a long way before uncovering a more enthusiastic fight fan than Pete Boy. The Ellwoodian attends every card of note in the district. Boy saw the Sheppard-Dorazio mix and agreed with the officials who named Sheppard as the unanimous winner. . . . Clyde Barry, while writing about ardent fans, ranks among the staunchest Westminster rooters in the county. In the last 13 years, Barry, whose son, Harold, is an assistant coach at Westminster, has missed only four or five frays played at New Wilmington. . . .

Miscellany:—Charley Parker, the Texas schoolboy flash who hasn't lost a dash race in two years and has strung together 37 victories, is only 171. . . . Al Ingerman, Temple University's 18-year-old freshman sharpshooter, has played in more than 1,000 games during the past six dribbling campaigns. . . . For winning the Los Angeles Open and finishing second to Byron Nelson in the Frisco Open, Harold "Jug" McSpaden, the Philly golf wizard, drew down $5,975. . . .

Fencing is a "must" for all nurses in training at Bainbridge Naval Training Station. The sport develops poise, heightens sense of timing and works out muscles that otherwise would remain dormant, officials have discovered. . . . Beau Jack and Maxie Berger swap punches in Cleveland on Tuesday, Feb. 15. . . . Jock McAvoy, the British middleweight sensation, has retired, a dispatch from London states, and Marshall Junior high of Chicago has won 50 straight cage games, the last loss dating back to 1938. . . .

The clash was close throughout with the locals grabbing an early lead. By halftime, however, the visitors pulled behind by two points.

Shenango's reserves beat the Junior-Senior stars, 27-12. Morrison, Kish, Tanner and Gill were outstanding.

Plan Free Baseball Schools After War

CHICAGO, Jan. 29.—(INS)—Post-war plans for establishment of free schools for young baseball players will be considered by the National Baseball Congress board of directors, which opens a five-day session in Chicago Sunday.

As envisaged by President Ray Dumont, semi-pro baseball chief, schools would be set up in each of the 48 states, with facilities composed of such former greats as Walter Johnson, George Sisler and Tris Speaker encouraging youngsters to play the game.

"I believe such schools headed by great baseball names would attract at least a million boys," Dumont said. "That would mean more sandlot teams and more material for organized baseball."

Alcoa, Epworths, St. Lucy's On Top

Rads Whipped In Overtime, 32-30; Epworths Stretch Church String To 11

Aluminum Works, Epworths and St. Lucy's emerged triumphant in Industrial and Church league games played on the Y. M. C. A. floor Friday night.

The Alcoa were forced to rally in the second half to down the National Radiators, 32-30 in an overtime battle. The Rads led 15-12 at halftime. Neil and Byler featured for the winners while Thomas was the Rads' stand-out.

Epworths Win Again
In the second skirmish, the Epworths nailed up their 11th consecutive Church loop victory trouncing St. George, 40-21. The Eps led throughout. Reed led the parade with 16 points while Harrison J. Dameson and Othello were standouts for the George boys.

St. Lucy's started its second half lead by walloping Central Presbyterians, 51-16. The Lucy Passers clinched the decision in the opening half, piling up a 21-9 advantage. DePeters and Conti featured with 26 points between them while Thompson, Shaw and Johns starred for the losers.

STOCKS

NARROW RANGE
IN DAY'S MARKET

Buying Is Selective And Comparatively Light During Morning

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(INS)—The stock market moved in a mixed and narrow range today in moderately active dealings. A few pivots managed to add to yesterday's advances, but buying was selective and comparatively light.

Utilities continued fairly strong, with most low priced common shares advancing fractionally and selected preferreds showing wider gains. Engineers Public Service was a feature, setting a new 1934-44 high on a small advance, while American & Foreign Power issues maintained a firm undertone.

Trading fell off slightly after an active opening and sales ran at a 350,000 share rate for the two hour session.

Steels and liquors, leaders in yesterday's recovery, generally held within fractions of last night's close. Bethlehem continued to rise, but its gain was small. American Distilling, strong yesterday, was up over a point early in the session, but fell back later, while Schenley and Allied Mills were easier.

Holding steady were the rails, rubbers and communications. Chemicals and motors edged slightly while oils and aviation were mixed and narrow.

Curb stock had an easier undertone, while the bond market was higher under leadership of railroads.

Even Officials
Get Different
Figures On Tax

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 29.—(INS)—Even Washington's super-officials can be wrong when it comes to figuring out income tax returns, it appeared today.

When John G. Harl, a Philadelphia carpenter, ran into difficulties on his tax return, he appealed to government officials and the public for help. All sorts of answers flooded his mail. Some said he owed in the hundreds of dollars on his net income of $1803.34. Others said the government owed him money.

Walter J. Rothensies, collector of internal revenue at Philadelphia, thought Harl's tax should be $23.16. But a department income tax statistician in Washington said Harl owed the government $44.05.

The question was finally settled today with the decision in favor of Rothensies.

"Humbly, contritely, apologetically," the Washington office declared that its statistician identified only as H. W. G. admitted his pencil slipped when he figured the return at $44.05.

"It was an arithmetical error that anyone might have made," said H. W. G. "What tripped me up was Mr. Harl's church and charity deductions ($270). Obviously 15 per cent of $1803.34 is not $108.34, as I inadvertently figured it out. Harl will pay the $23.16 March 15, unless, of course, someone comes up with a better answer in the meantime."

Hide And Seek Romance Still
Is Indecisive

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—(INS)—The hide-and-seek romance of Capt. Philip Beatman and blonde Helen Olsen was still in an indecisive stage today.

A week ago, two hours before their wedding was scheduled to take place in Newburyport, Mass.—Capt. Beatman disappeared, but turned up later in New York.

Yesterday Miss Olsen came down to New York to renew the contact with the captain. But almost simultaneously with the young Massachusetts girl's arrival in the city, Capt. Beatman was leaving—for Boston, where he is due to report tomorrow when his furlough expires. Under the circumstances, speculation is rife as to whether Capt. Beatman, Miss Olsen or the furlough will expire first.

'Face Reality' Begs Col. Romulo

"Atrocities No More Than Expected" Says Officer Who Fought At Bataan

By MARTHA KEARNEY
N. S. Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Col. Carlos Romulo, the last man off Bataan, declared today that the atrocities inflicted upon American war prisoners was no more than could be expected from the Japanese.

The Filipino officer, now an aide to President Manuel Quezon, bluntly stated that America is losing the war in the Pacific and said that after two years of fighting Americans still do not know the temperaments of the Japanese.

Romulo, who fought through the four-and-a-half month siege of Bataan, escaped two hours before the surrender on the order of Gen. Jonathan Wainwright.

Face Reality
Romulo begged Americans to "face reality" in the Pacific war.

"Let us face facts and admit that after two years of war Japan is the victor. Out of 1,368,000 square miles of land she has grabbed we have only recaptured 169,159 square miles. We have been fighting 3,000 miles from the Japanese mainland, have advanced only 200 miles and have taken only 377 Japanese prisoners.

"Doesn't that show what kind of fight we have on our hands? Japan has a life and death struggle—the Japs have put all their eggs into one basket and know it. By fair means or foul they are going to fight it through."

Denies He Called Congress Names

Congressman Weiss Denies Saying 'Congress Is A Hot-
Bed For Fascism'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(INS)—Rep. Weiss (D, Pa., today gave the house a detailed and vehement denial of charges made on the floor by Rep. Rankin (D, Miss., that the Pennsylvania had called congress "a hotbed for fascism."

Weiss firmly denied ever making any of the statements criticizing congress which Rankin, in a fiery speech yesterday quoted from a Cleveland dispatch. The Glassport, Pa., congressman told the house he did not, in a speech before the Tompkins club of Cleveland, say that the Washington grand jury which recently indicted 30 persons on treason charges would have indicted three members of congress had it gone another step.

"The above statement was never made by me or anyone on my behalf," Weiss declared. "Neither did I authorize anyone to make it on my behalf."

In substance, Weiss said his statement regarding use of franking privileges was as follows:

"They recently indicted 30 senators in Washington. Had Sammy Weiss permitted his frank to be used with speeches calling the president of the United States a 'modern Judas' as did Congressman Clare Hoffman of Michigan, to be sent through our mails, or had he permitted a Nazi agent to send out thousands of franked pieces of mail as did Congressman Fish of New York with the prejudice that exists the grand jury would no doubt have gone a step further and had Sammy Weiss indicted."

Reaction to the message—48 hours after its delivery—was the most violent congressional outburst since 1933.

"The message was much too strong," said one leading house Democrat. "I wish he hadn't sent it and I don't think it is going to help him or the party."

Members on both sides of the house also expressed "resentment" over Mr. Roosevelt's use of the word "fraud" when he termed the states' rights soldier vote bill "a fraud on the soldier" and sailors and marines.

A fraud upon the American people.

F.B.I. Is Probing Double Suicide

Man And Woman Found Dead
After Man Is Questioned
By F.B.I. Agent

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 29.—(INS)—Federal Bureau of Investigation agents joined Quaker City police today in an investigation of the suicides of Gustav Spahn, 45, and Elsie Roth, 33, whom Spahn had introduced to friends as his wife.

J. F. Sears, agent in charge of the Philadelphia FBI office, said Spahn, who came to this country from Germany and had never been naturalized, had been questioned by FBI agents last week.

Sears said Spahn was "subject to a routine investigation" resulting from complaints indicating his activities to be suspicious, and since it had been learned he had made efforts to return to Germany shortly after this country entered the war.

Before opening the kitchen gas jets in their North Philadelphia home, the couple wrote a letter to the FBI affirming their loyalty to the United States; drew up wills, and wrote two notes, one giving directions for their burial, and the other leaving almost $30 to the infantile paralysis campaign.

Miss Roth was also German-born, the FBI said.

Congress Resents FDR's Castigation

Republicans And Democrats
Disapprove Of President's Message

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(INS)—The political "shock wave" of President Roosevelt's soldier vote message castigating congress reverberated in full force on Capitol Hill today.

In the house, Republicans openly and some Democrats—administration Democrats, privately—called the presidential attack on supporters of a states' rights ballot bill the "strongest" communication from the White House in Mr. Roosevelt's 11 years as chief executive.

Reaction to the message—48 hours after its delivery—was the most violent congressional outburst since 1933.

"The message was much too strong," said one leading house Democrat. "I wish he hadn't sent it and I don't think it is going to help him or the party."

Members on both sides of the house also expressed "resentment" over Mr. Roosevelt's use of the word "fraud" when he termed the states' rights soldier vote bill "a fraud on the soldier" and sailors and marines.

Doughboys' Dough Going For Bonds

One Camp Reynolds Soldier
Takes Out $10,000 Bond,
Name Withheld

GREENVILLE, Pa., Jan. 29.—Camp Reynolds campaign for a $100,000 goal in the Fourth War Loan drive received unexpected impetus yesterday when two privates subscribed a substantial share of the total.

Stepping up to the desk of Lt. Nicolas A. Titangos, insurance and war bonds officer, a Camp Reynolds soldier saluted smartly and said: "Sir, I wish to arrange for purchase of $10,000 in war bonds."

"It's a safe, sure investment, and the only logical choice for a person who wants to see his country win through to victory," Private Wallace explained.

Another purchaser of a $10,000 bond was Private Arnold Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rubin Wallace, of 4727 Monticello avenue, Chicago.

YOUR FEDERAL INCOME TAX

No. 23
INTEREST INCOME

Interest received from notes, bonds, bank deposits and other sources is taxable, with certain exceptions, and must be reported as income on your tax return.

Wholly tax-exempt interest includes interest on obligations of a state, territory, or political subdivision thereof, or of the District of Columbia or United States possessions; (b) obligations issued prior to March 1, 1941, under the Federal Farm Loan Act or amendments to the Act; (c) obligations of the United States issued on or before September 1, 1917, and of Treasury notes, Treasury bills and Treasury certificates of indebtedness issued prior to March 1, 1941.

Certain other interest is partially tax exempt. Interest on United States savings bonds and Treasury bonds issued prior to March 1, 1941, is of this class. Interest on such bonds is exempt from normal tax and victory tax, and on holdings of such bonds up to $5,000 principal amount it is exempt from surtax also; that is, interest on such bonds held in excess of $5,000 principal amount must be included in surtax net income for computation of surtax.

Interest on obligations issued on or after March 1, 1941, by the United States or any agency or instrumentality of the United States, is subject to normal tax, surtax and victory tax. However, in the case of obligations issued at a discount, for example, war savings bonds, where interest is reported on the cash basis, the interest may be reported each year as accrued (shown in a table in the bonds as the increase in the redemption value) or it may be deferred until the bonds are cashed or come due, when it may all be included as income in that year.

Once a taxpayer has elected to accrue the discount, he cannot change to the other method, without the permission of the Commissioner of Internal Revenue.

On certain bonds with a "tax free covenant" the corporation issuing the bonds pays part of the income tax on such bond interest (2 per cent of the total interest earned by the bond). A person receiving interest on such bonds is entitled to a credit of the amount of income tax paid by the corporation in computing his tax due. The amount of such credit for tax paid at the source is entered in Item 15, page 4, of the return Form 1040.

Interest on coupon bonds is considered received when the coupon becomes due and payable, irrespective of when the taxpayer cashes or presents the coupon for payment (unless, of course, the issuer of the bonds is in default and no funds are available to meet the interest). Interest on savings and deposit accounts is considered as received when it has been credited to the account of the taxpayer, subject to his withdrawal, irrespective of whether he withdraws it or not. Other interest is considered as received when paid or made available to the holder of the obligation.

Sometimes, interest is paid at a discount and redeemed at the face amount. While such discount is frequently considered interest in the commercial sense, for tax purposes it represents a gain from sale or exchange of property and is not reported as interest, but as a gain under item 6 on the face of the return.

Board Refuses Travel Expense

Labor Board Denies Request
Of Chester Employes For Travelling Allowance

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 29.—(INS)—By a unanimous action, the Regional War Labor Board today refused a request to pay 50 cents traveling expense to all employees required to work four or more hours overtime at the Penn Steel Castings company, Chester, Pa.

The allowance, which was to be added to the normal overtime rate, was to compensate these employees for the additional fares they would be required to pay because of the inability to take advantage of the cashing pool arrangements on days when overtime work is necessary.

The board's order, issued to the company and the United Steelworkers local No. 1335, CIO, explained that such a travel allowance would constitute a wage increase not in accord with wage stabilization policy.

The board unanimously approved the request of the parties for a new terminating date in the vacation plan. Under the new plan, employees will receive one week's vacation with pay provided they have completed one year's service on any date between June 1 and September 1 of the current year.

New Meat Shortage
Seen In February

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—(INS)—Leon Bosch, assistant chief of OPA's meat rationing program, today said that lifting of point values would imperil distribution of meat to many areas and do nothing to increase supply.

Bosch also told a senate banking subcommittee hearing on the ration program that OPA has increased the overall allotment of meats to the public by 36 percent since Dec. 1, but that February will probably see new shortages in stocks.

"Any suspension of point values would serve only to reduce pork and other meat supplies."
